At the end of 2023, the Hungarian Parliament approved a new program for granting long-term Hungarian residency through investment.

This program not only guarantees investors the right to obtain long-term resident status in Europe, offering significant benefits for both the investor and their family members, but also opens new opportunities for the business of third-country nationals and their private assets.

What does the status of a long-term Hungarian resident offer?

Financial security

A new level of stability, social comfort, and personal security

LONG-TERM RESIDENCY IN HUNGARY

Since there's no obligation to live in Hungary, individuals with this status are free to live anywhere globally, maintaining their privilege of limitless visa-free access and travel within the Schengen Area.

The status of a long-term resident in Hungary also grants you unrestricted access to both Hungarian and European financial systems without any limitations.

Having the status of a long-term resident in Hungary does not automatically make you tax liable in Hungary, but it does give you the option to become a tax resident of the country if you live in Hungary for more than 183 days a year, or by choice after filing the appropriate application.
